

Zoom Out Strategically

Develop passion for Strategic Thinking and facilitate Organizational change through the same.

Overview

In a latest 2020 article 6000 millennials were asked to rate the top 3 skills most important for them to prepare for the future and 73% rated Critical thinking as being #One. Critical thinking is far from thinking about critical matters. It is about the ability to think clearly and rationally -utilizing your capabilities to work with things, restore them, sail through turbulent times, innovate new pathways and develop newer ways of thinking.

Learning Outcomes

This program intends to help learners appreciate the anatomy of a critical thinker and develop a competence map of critical thinking. It helps assess oneself and put into practice one's own critical thinking capabilities.
